

Two Umpire Rotation
60 Foot Diamond

Explanations

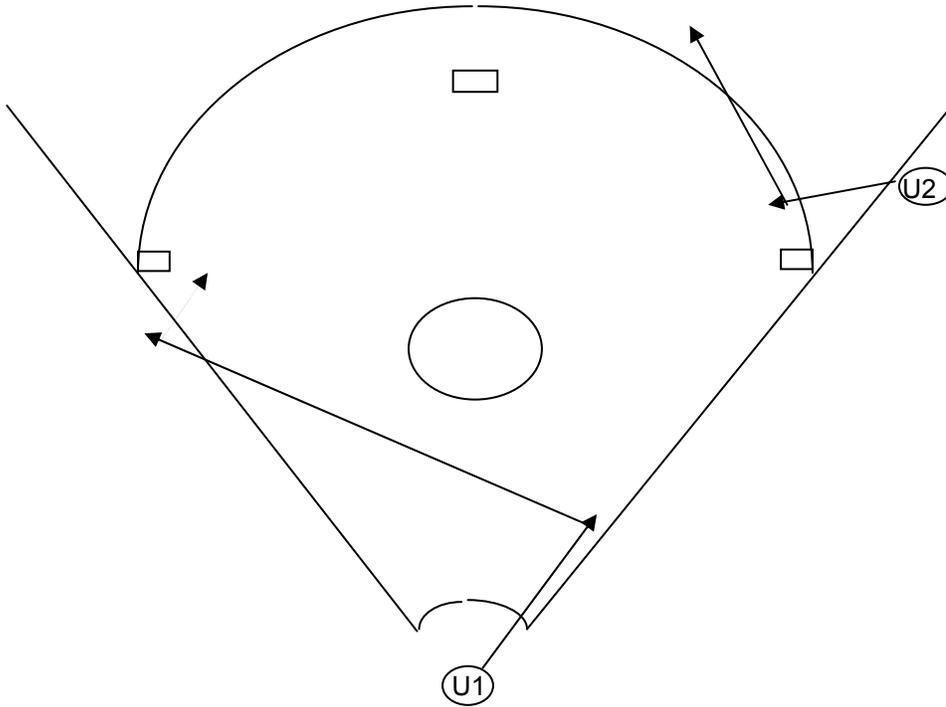

U1 = Home plate Umpire

U2 = First base Umpire

R = Runner

*Note = Point of interest for the Umpires listed

No runners on base
Ball hit infield
Umpire in the A position

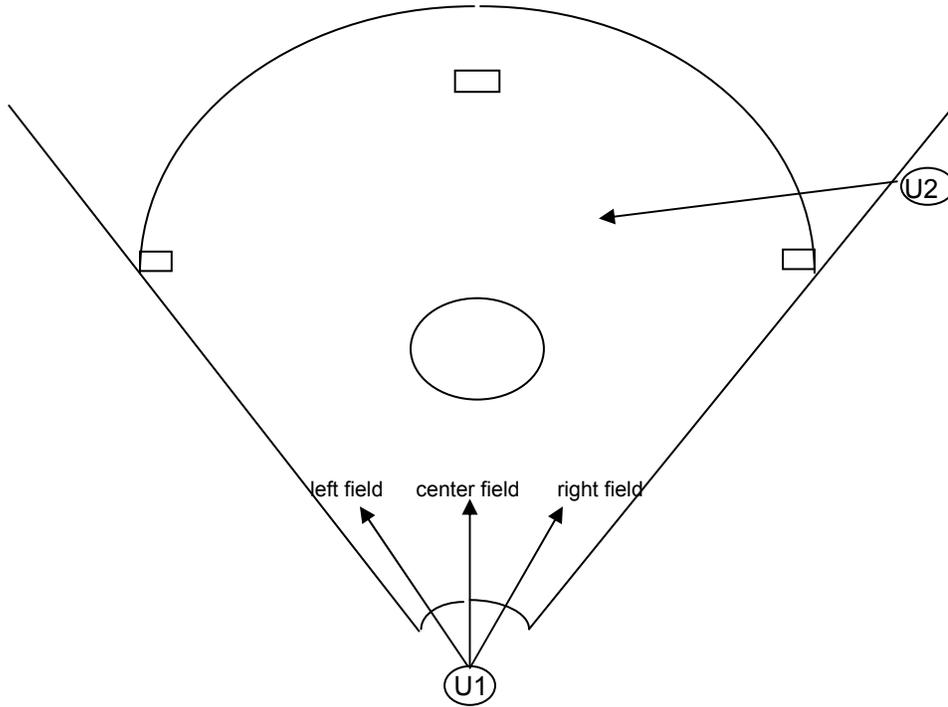

U1 Plate Umpire trails the batter-runner and watch for running lane violations

Note U1 If the play blows up you will go the working area at third base and take the runner if they advance to third base.
Remain in the working area until a play is evident.
Pass ball at third base.
1) If you are in fair territory trail the runner home in fair territory.
2) If you are in foul territory trail the runner home in foul territory.

U2 Base Umpire moves into the infield about 3 steps or so to create your angle to make call at first base. You should be inline with the back inside corner,

Note U2 If the play blows up at first base you will take the runner into second base. Drop step a couple of steps toward the B position to take the runner to second

No runners on base
Ball hit outfield
Umpire in the A position

U1 Plate Umpire moves in the direction the ball is hit he has fair, foul and catch no-catch responsibility.

---

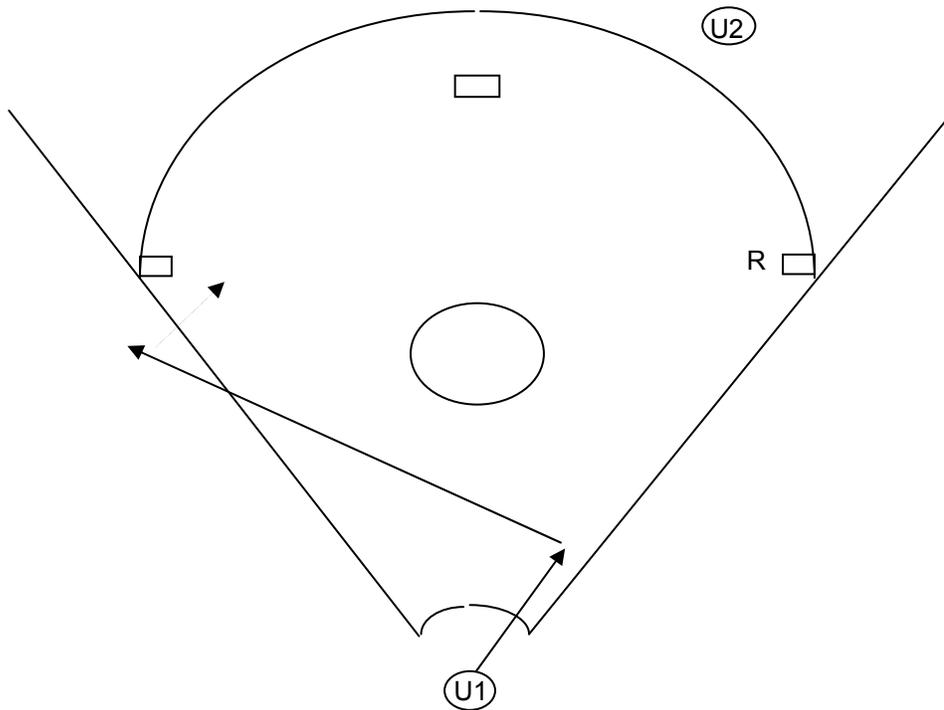

U2 Base Umpire moves infield to watch the batter-runner touch first and take the runner into second and third base if they go.

---

note U2 When the ball is hit to the outfield you move infield.
Ball hit infield you stay outfield.

---

Runner on first base only
Ball hit infield
Umpire in the B position

U1 Plate Umpire trails the batter-runner and watch for running lane violations then rotates to working area at third base incase lead runner comes to third.

Note U1 Remain in the working area until a play is evident.
Pass ball at third base.
1) If you are in fair territory trail the runner home in fair territory.
2) If you are in foul territory trail the runner home in foul territory.

---

U2 Base umpire will set up midway between the second base and the second baseman.
From the outfield grass pivot with the direction of the throw letting the ball turn you into the play to make your call.

---

Runner on second base only
Ball hit infield
Umpire in the C position

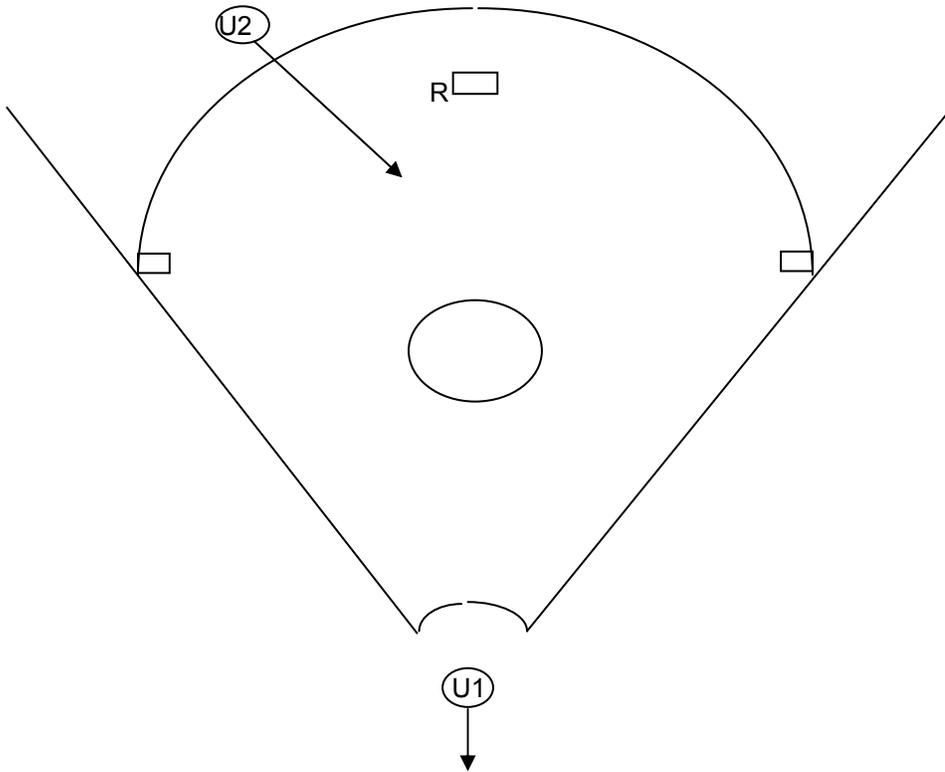

U1 Take a couple of steps back and watch for running lane violations on the batter-runner and the lead runner if they advance to home plate

---

U2 Base umpire will set up to the left of the shortstop From the outfield grass pivot with the direction of the throw letting the ball turn you into the play. You have the calls at all the bases.

---

Runner on second base only
Ball hit outfield
Umpire in the C position

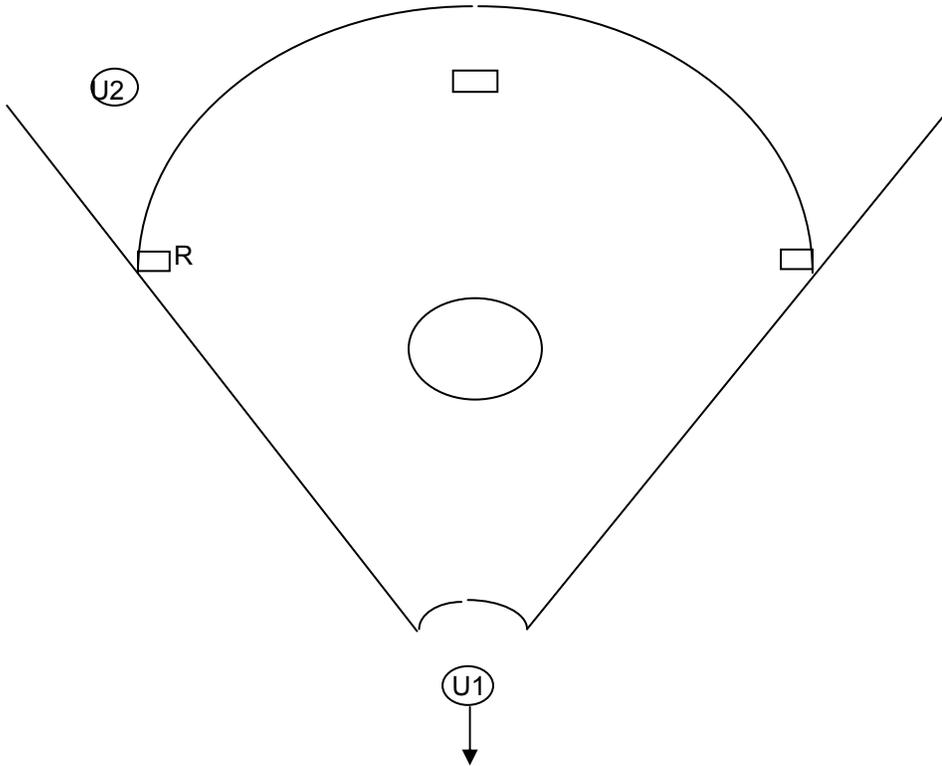

U1 Take a couple of steps back to make your catch, no-catch and fair foul call.
Watch lead runner touch third and home plate if they come.

---

U2 Base umpire will set up to the left of the shortstop.
Ball hit outfield you will move into the working area to watch lead runner tag up. If there is no catch you have touch at all the bases by all runners.

---

Runner on third base only
Ball hit infield
Umpire in the C position

U1 Take a couple of steps back to watch the lead runner touch home plat and check for running lane violations on the batter runner.

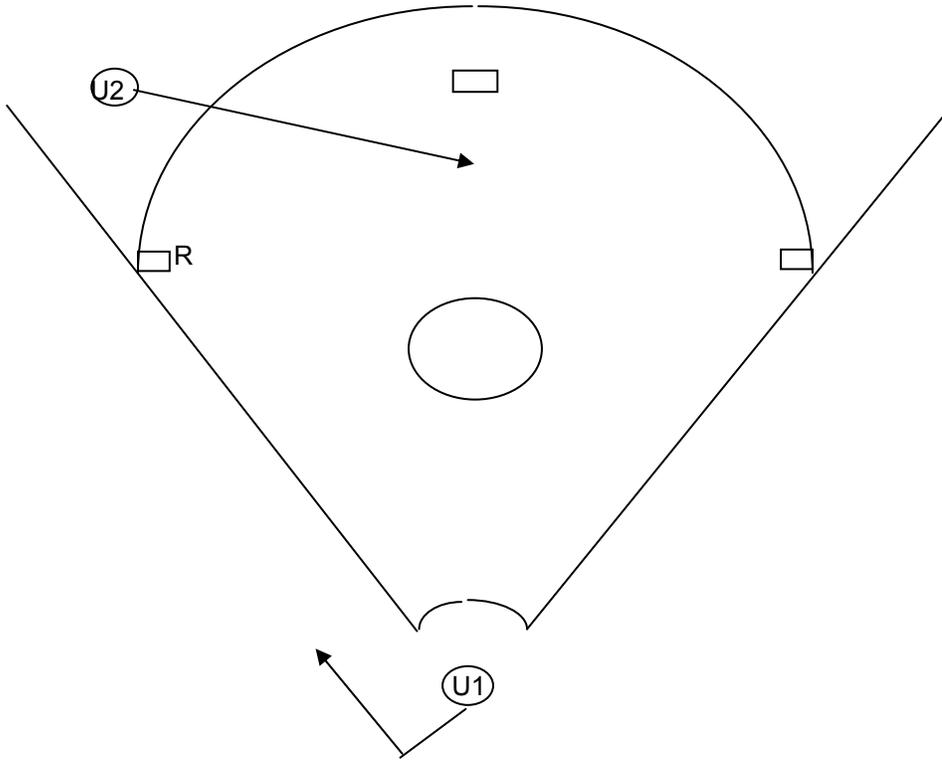

---

U2 From this position you will make your call at first base on the batter-runner.

Note U2 If there is a over throw at first base and if the batter-runner advances to second base take two steps toward second base to create your angle to make your call. If the runner advances toward third take a few steps toward third base to create your angle to make the call.

---

Runner on third base only
Ball hit outfield
Umpire in the C position

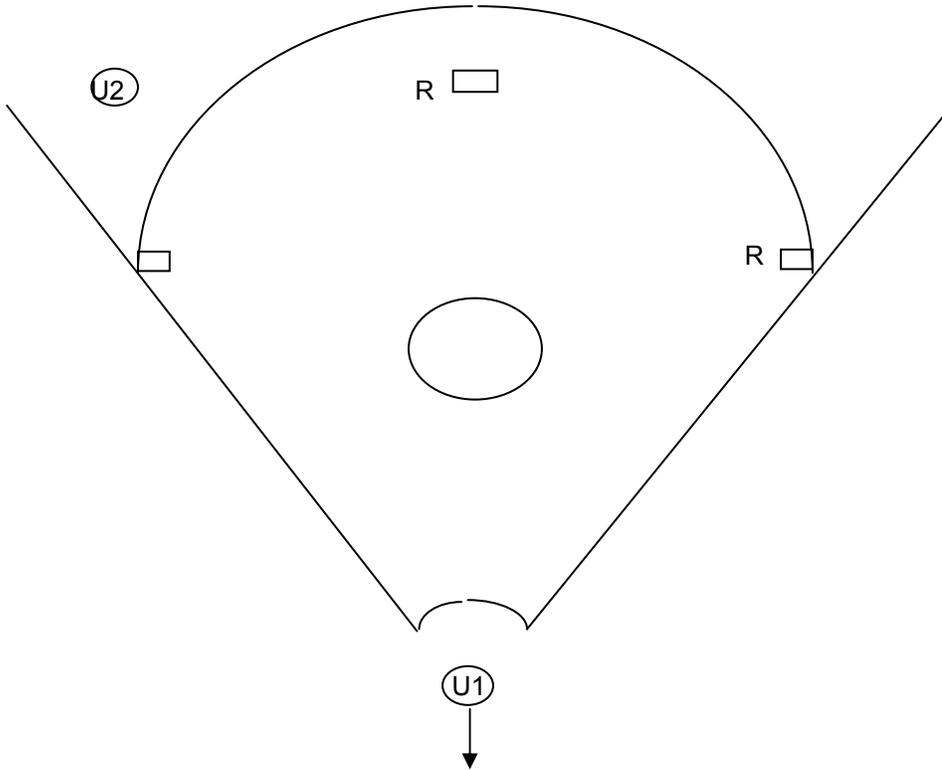

U1 With a runner on third base only the plate umpire has responsibility for the runner tagging up a third and fair, foul and catch no-catch on fly balls or line drives hit to outfield.
You will have all calls at home plate.

---

U2 Come inside the diamond to the working area behind the pitching mound to make sure batter-runner touches first base and take batter-runner into second and third base if needed.

---

Runner on first and second base only
Ball hit infield
Umpire in the C position

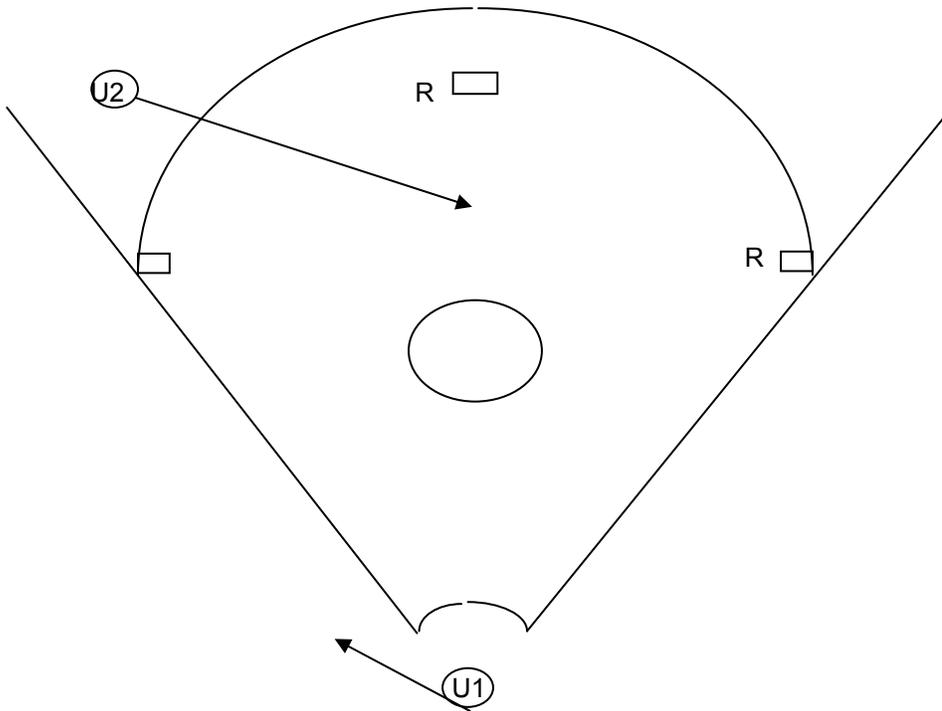

U1 Take a couple of steps back and watch for running lane violations on the batter runner.

Note U1 If the lead runner rounds third and advances to home plate and the defense tries to put out R2 or the batter-runner in a non-force out situation you will have to judge if runner crossed the plate before the out was made.

---

U2 From this position you will make the calls at all the bases. The key is to follow the ball and let the throw turn you into the plays.

Runner on first and second base only
Ball hit outfield
Umpire in the C position

U1 Swing out from home plate a few feet toward third base in foul territory to make fair, foul, catch, no-catch calls. Watch to see if the lead runner is tagging up. drift up the line for a call at third base. If no play is evident at third be prepared to take the lead runner home. If there is a possible play at third drift to the working area at third base. Only come into the playing field when there is a play going to happen.

Note U1 If the lead runner rounds third and advances to home plate and the defense tries to put out R2 or the batter-runner in a non-force out situation you will have to judge if runner crossed the plate before the out was made.

---

U2 Come into the working area behind pitchers mound. Watch for R1 at first to tag up. you will have the call at second base if R2 or batter-runner if the play blows up.

Runner on first, second and third base only
Ball hit outfield
Umpire in the C position

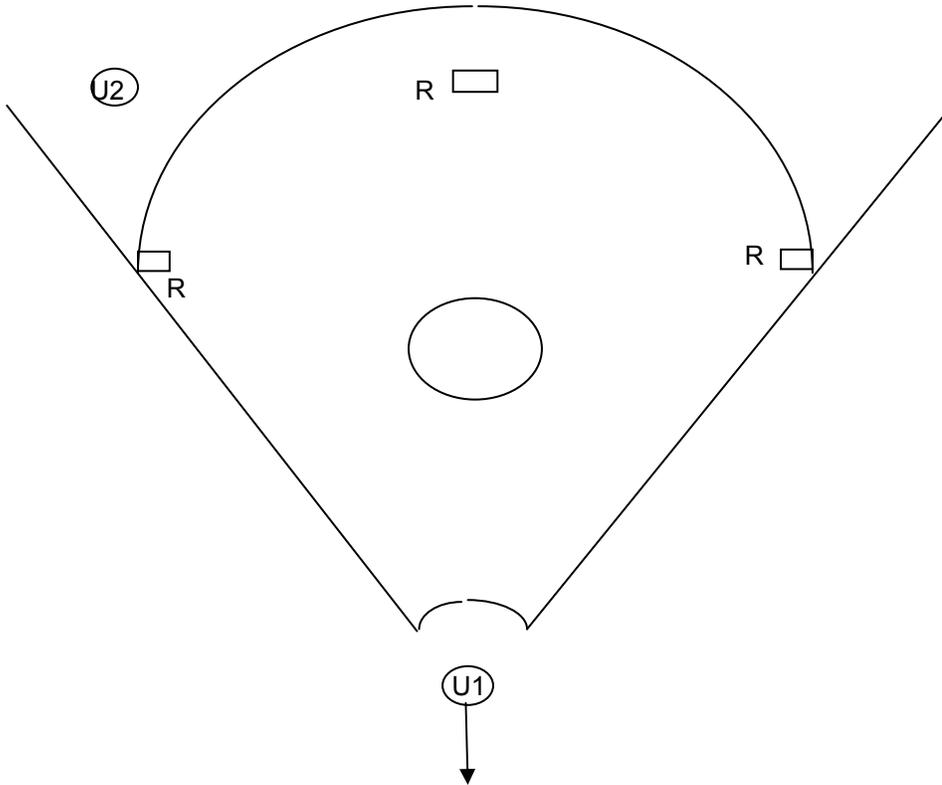

U1      Swing out from home plate a few feet toward third base in foul territory to make fair, foul, catch, no-catch calls.
         Watch for the tag up at third base. You have all calls at home plate

---

U2      Come infield to watch runners leaving early at first and second base.
         You have all base touches and calls on advancing base-runners

---

Runner on first, second and third base only
Ball hit outfield
Umpire in the C position

U1 Take a couple steps back to make all calls at home plate.

Note U1 Remember if the defense put a runner out in a non-force situation you will have to judge if the run crossed the plate before the out was made.

---

U2 you will make all calls at all the bases from this position.
Watch all runners touch bases.

---